GENERAL UPRISING NOT ANTICIPATED

China, As a Whole, Becoming More Quiet Every Day

(Correspondence of the Asso. Press.)

Peking, April 2.—Negotiations are being actively carried on for a compromise between the revolutionists and the Peking government with the result that alarm over a general uprising has been somewhat quieted. Communication is very slow between the southern provinces and Peking. However, Yuan Shi-kai's close friends have managed to get in touch with the military governors in the rebellious provinces, and there are evidences that middle ground may be reached in a very short time.

It is already reported that Kwangsi province, since it has learned that the monarchy has been definitely cancelled, has announced its abandonment of the independence movement. This action on the part of Kwangsi is denied by many of the leaders of the revolution, who insist it is based on falsified reports. Nevertheless, the opinion is general in Peking that Kwangsi is negotiating for terms and feels it has accomplished its main purpose in forcing Yuan Shi-kai to abandon the monarchy.

General Chen Yi, the military governor of Szechuen, addressed a message to Tsai Ao, the leader of the Yunnan revolt, urging that the revolutionists should cease hostilities pending a discussion of compromise between the north and south.

Tsai Ao replied that the chief object of the revolution was to check the abandonment of the republic, but that after Yuan Shi-kai had violated his oath to maintain the republic and denounced the republican form of government as wholly unsuitable to China, it would be impossible for him to rule the country satisfactorily and win the co-operation of a public which distrusts him. Furthermore, Tsai Ao, asked what guarantee there is that Yuan Shi-kai will not make another attempt to restore the monarchy after having quieted the revolution which has produced so much sorrow and suffering.

In conclusion Tsai Ao pointed out that the constitution makes presidential succession quite clear. If Yuan Shi-kai were to resign as the revolutionists demand, Li Yuan-hung would automatically become president and remain in the presidential chair pending the meeting in the near future of a parliament to elect a prominent president from the following candidates, each of whom would be acceptable to the nation: General Li Yuan-hung, the vice president; General Tuan Chi-jui, chief of staff; General Feng Kuo-chang, military governor at Nanking and Hsu Shih-chang, the secretary of state.

All the revolutionary leaders do not hold as radical views as Tsai Ao. Already a number of prominent revolutionists have shown a disposition to accept Yuan Shi-kai as president with a proper safe-guarding of the rights of the public. There are evidences that fighting has been discontinued within many sections of the war zone, and a general armistice is expected in the very near future.

Don't Be a Slave To Your Nerves

Good Advice to Nervous People.

People who are excessively nervous, tired out and all run down, who get the jumps and fidgets, who can't concentrate their minds on work, have fits of blues, trembling, nervous headaches and dyspepsia, and that "don't give a hang" feeling so common to nervous folks may take it as a certain fact that their trouble is due to impoverished or devitalized nerve force. Their nerve cells are starving and when they give out entirely complete nervous prostration or breakdown is the result.

A splendid treatment for weak nerves is found in the famous Margo Nerve Tablets composed of six of the best nerve vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These tablets go straight to the nerve cells and begin immediate action. Take a Margo Nerve tablet, wait ten minutes and watch yourself perk up. They feed your famished nerve cells, start healthy blood circulation and normal digestion. Then you brighten up, put on a smile, get some of the old time "pep" back in your system and feel as happy as a clam at high tide. Margo Nerve Tablets are absolutely harmless, contain no dangerous habit forming drugs, are easy to take, inexpensive and The Clark & Brainerd Drug Co., and other leading druggists sell them on a positive guarantee of successful results or money back.

FRANCE TO EXPORT NO WAR ORPHANS

But Americans Will Support
Thousands in French Towns

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)

Paris, April 20.—"France is not going to export any of its war orphans," said Monsieur Alfred Croiset, head of the Faculty of Letters of the Sorbonne, explaining the participation of Americans in the work of the Orphanage of the Armies of which he is president. "I know a statement was published recently to the effect that 150,000 American families had offered to adopt orphans of the war. The number was a little exaggerated, and the word adoption used in its general sense was misleading. Orphans of the war so far as it is possible are to remain in their families, especially when the mother is living. Where there are no immediate relatives to take care of them, they are to be placed in other French families and ultimately will be cared for by the State until their majority; none of them are available for adoption under the common acceptance of the term."

"Most of the Americans who have expressed the desire to participate in this work understand this point quite well; in fact in our correspondence the majority of the letters from the United States express the desire that the children which they agree to support should remain in their families. The supposition that there are 150,000 American families wanting to take care of orphans arose no doubt from the fact that we were asked by Americans as to about how many war orphans there were needing assistance, and we put the number at 150,000. This, of course, does not comprise all of the war orphans. They were estimated recently in a debate in the senate by Senator Jenouvrier at 800,000 which of course include half orphans, but a great proportion of these will never become the objects of charitable work and the exact number may never be precisely determined.

Support Not Adoption.

"Committees have been organized in a great many American cities to receive propositions of families, not to adopt orphans, but to support them in their own surroundings for a period of two years, which is supposed will go beyond the end of the war and carry them to the time when the measures taken by the government for the care of orphans become effective. All the people in France connected with this movement have been deeply touched by the generous ardour of Americans in this work. We have received many thousand letters, the numbers are increasing every day, from families who want to enter into direct communication with orphans and start correspondence with them so as to follow them until such time as they need no further help.

"The plan of the Orphanage of the Army is to bring these children up without making them feel that they are objects of charity, without withdrawing them from their usual environment except when that environment is bad. We support them in money, clothing, books, pending of money, clothing, books, pending the organization of official means of providing for them. We are aided largely in this work by pupils of the public schools. There are about 40,000 different schools in France, and the children of each school contribute their sous for the support of an orphan. Eventually each one of these schools will have a ward at its charge."

COMPILES CHINESE DICTIONARY
Peking, May 5.—Edmund Blackhouse, an English scholar who has been working for twenty years on an Anglo-Chinese dictionary, will leave China permanently this month, and does not intend to return again.

The dictionary upon which Mr. Blackhouse has been engaged will be three times as voluminous as the Giles Chinese dictionary, which is now the largest work of the kind in existence. The publication of Mr. Blackhouse's new dictionary is looked forward to by Chinese scholars as an important step forward in Chinese education.

INDUSTRIAL STAGNATION.

Dutch Workmen Leave Germany to Seek Employment.

The Hague, Netherlands, May 5.—The exodus from Germany of the numerous Dutch workmen's families resident there has been in evidence for many months past, and the movement is proceeding steadily. Most of these people hail from the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region.

They declare unemployment is increasing on every hand in various branches of German industry. Margarine and oil factories are here and there entirely at a standstill; the weaving factories have not been at work for some time and now the army gun-cotton factories, including those at Bocholt, have had to reduce their operations to two days per week, the cause in all cases being lack of raw materials.
